

ResourceLink Guidebook

The money you raise by riding in Tour de Pink allows YSC to provide educational resources to young women and healthcare providers at no cost. One of the resources YSC is proud to offer is the ResourceLink Guidebook. The guidebook is a powerful resource to educate young women about breast cancer and to encourage them to be an advocate for their own best health. The ResourceLink Guidebook provides:

- Information about Young Survival Coalition (YSC) programs and resources
- Specifically designed resources for young women, their supporters and healthcare professionals
- Organizations that provide financial assistance, support, and other resources relevant to young women diagnosed with breast cancer—listed by state so it is easy for women to find resources in their area
- More than 400 breast cancer support groups—either specific to young women or attended by young survivors

Because of the money raised by TdP riders, YSC is able to provide this resource to young women and healthcare providers for free. Providing access to education and resources, including the ResourceLink Guidebook, a lifeline for navigating the various phases of a breast cancer journey, is a huge part of YSC's mission that no young women should face breast cancer alone.
